

A flyer was put up for a marathon.

Mike, our main character, finds it and decides to do the marathon but doesn't know how to prep.

Mike then opens up his phone to find an app that helps to make a workout plan to meet his goals.

He then commits to it and gives the app a try.

5 Months later.....

Now that he doesn't have to worry about the planning he's been able to get in shape.

Mike then wins the marathon since he was given a proper workout plan from the app.
